

™e-Publisher 7.0 as a catholic leader ™GlobalIntegral is at the service of the New Evangelization for the third millennium associated with digital culture and synodality

Nicolas Pierre is a writer and speaker specializing in the New Evangelization.

His artistic contributions, which are available in the form of paper books or ebooks, are aimed at anyone of good will.

It contributes to the Church's mission of announcing the Good News of the Gospel, an inalienable right for every human being to receive it, particularly on the digital continent.

It offers free conferences all over the global world on the theme:
'New Evangelization, digital culture and synodality'.

His lectures are deeply connected with his writings.

The Roman Catholic Church is the framework within which GlobalIntegral develops its initiative.

GlobalIntegral promotes the intrinsic dignity of every person, integral human development, ecclesial communion and unity in the diversity of the human race called to the civilization of love.

While examining the signs of the times and through inculturation, GlobalIntegral invests in the complex cultural, contextual and existential peripheries of globalization and conveys synodal culture and an integral anthropology with a humanism synonymous of universal fraternity and planetary solidarity.

In the digital age and through its integral vision and leadership, GlobalIntegral nourishes e-culture, AI Catholic and the circularity of media circuits while encouraging the permanent digital transition of the Church, intended to build bridges between humanity and God, with the creation of digital content by any appropriate means.

With news GlobalIntegral serves as a hub to direct (e)-disciples-missionaries towards useful resources.

GlobalIntegral serves the spherical, integral and global movement of the New Evangelization for the IIIrd millennium.

You can find more details at www.global-integral.com